Potential Sponsor,

As we approach our annual Association for International Agricultural and Extension Education (AIAEE) conference April 22 – April 25th, we wanted to share an opportunity to not only support our conference but share your support of extension education in developing regions as one of our Conference Sponsors. AIAEE is a non-profit organization that is the professional association for agricultural leaders focusing on developing regions. Our participants include:

- University professionals
- University graduate students seeking opportunities
- Extension professionals
- Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs)

Our 2024 conference is being hosted by the University of Florida and hosted at the Drury Plaza Hotel in Orlando Florida. We are extremely excited about this event, and we hope you can be a part of our conference!

Our conference includes a variety of research sessions, business and committee meetings and regional tours to gain experiences in the region. The conference is a catalyst for professional development through our sessions, collaboration sessions, as well as our focus on supporting graduate student engagement through our student sessions. Your support helps make this happen! View the following sponsorship levels and please share your interest so that we can get your support setup and properly plan for how we can collaborate on you support of our conference.
