198 Pool Road
Richards, Texas 77873

As we approach our annual Association for International Agricultural and Extension Education (AIAEE) conference April 25 – April 30th, we wanted to share an opportunity to not only support our conference but share your support of extension education in developing regions as one of our AIAEE Conference Sponsors. The AIAEE is a non-profit organization that is the professional association for agricultural extension/education leaders focusing on developing regions. Our participants include:

- University professionals
- University graduate students seeking opportunities
- Extension professionals
- Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs)

Our annual research conference is being hosted by the School of Environmental Design and Rural Development (SEDRD), University of Guelph, will be hosting the conference in Guelph, Canada. We are extremely excited about this event, and we hope you can be a part of our conference!

Our conference includes a variety of research sessions, business and committee meetings and regional tours to gain experiences in the region. The conference is a catalyst for professional development through our sessions, collaboration sessions, as well as our focus on supporting graduate student engagement through our student sessions. Your support helps make this happen!

Some of the new sponsor opportunities we have added this year are exhibition times for sponsors to share information or communicate with participants at the conference, post-conference communication, new annual promotion of sponsor logos on our new website and improved logo connections in our conference proceedings. Your support is essential to enhance the experience of our attendees but is also an opportunity for you to connect with our attendees and add value to the overall experience. Thank you in advance for considering supporting NAEPSPD with a sponsorship to make this annual conference possible.
